avocado draws German country report for study on passenger transport by taxi, rental car with driver and ridesharing in the EU carried out for the European Commission

In 2016, a comprehensive study about the regulatory framework for passenger transport and the general conditions of taxi, hire car with driver and ridesharing markets across the EU was carried out for the European Commission. The Study intends to identify the main reasons behind the taxi markets upheaval and the impact and efforts of innovative services on the taxi markets. This includes an analysis of the multiple court procedures before the national courts as well as the ECJ challenging the market entry of such innovative services on various grounds. In addition, recommendations shall be given aiming at an improvement of market access and working conditions, quality and safety of services as well as consumer protection rights in the field of passenger transport by taxi, rental car with driver, ridesharing and innovative transport services.

avocado rechtsanwälte drew the German country report for the respective study which now can be downloaded via https://ec.europa.eu/transport/modes/road/studies/road_en.
